

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*AMR Supply Chain Ltd Becomes Exclusive Distributor for Dendro Lift DSS2 Stacker Lift in the UK and Ireland

London, UK – AMR Supply Chain Ltd is thrilled to announce an exclusive distribution agreement with Dendro Lift AB for the DSS2 Stacker Lift in the UK and Ireland. This partnership brings cutting-edge lifting solutions to the material handling industry, focusing on safety, ergonomics, and efficiency.

The Dendro DSS2 Stacker Lift is a revolutionary product designed to simplify and enhance the process of servicing stackers. Developed in collaboration with leading global stacker manufacturers, the DSS2 prioritizes user safety, comfort, and operational efficiency. Its agile and flexible construction allows easy insertion of the stacker's support legs, secure fastening, and smooth elevation to the optimal working height with just the push of a button. Key features include:

- Ergonomic Design: Eliminates the need for uncomfortable working positions, such as sitting low or using unstable scissor lifts.
- Ease of Access: Provides three free sides for unobstructed access to essential components like engines, batteries, brakes, and wheel suspensions.
- Portability: No permanent installation required, allowing the lift to be moved to different workplaces with ease.
- Safety-Focused Features: Equipped with robust safety mechanisms to ensure reliability and prevent accidents during use.

With the DSS2 Stacker Lift, servicing stackers is now safer, quicker, and more efficient than ever before.

Erik Säfsten, CEO of Dendro Lift AB, expressed his enthusiasm about the partnership: "We are delighted to collaborate with AMR Supply Chain Ltd as our exclusive distributor in the UK and Ireland. This agreement marks an exciting opportunity to introduce the DSS2 Stacker Lift to a dynamic and growing market. By providing safe, ergonomic, and efficient lifting solutions, we aim to transform the way stackers are serviced in the UK material handling industry."

Phil Regan, CEO of AMR Supply Chain Ltd, highlighted the significance of this partnership: "The Dendro DSS2 Stacker Lift is an excellent addition to our product portfolio. It aligns perfectly with our business model and leverages our extensive network within the UK's material handling industry. We're confident this innovative product will address critical pain points for our customers and set a new standard in stacker servicing."

The partnership between AMR Supply Chain Ltd and Dendro Lift AB reflects a shared commitment to delivering superior solutions that enhance productivity and safety in the workplace. With the DSS2 Stacker Lift, customers across the UK and Ireland can now access world-class equipment designed to meet their specific needs.
